WORK IS CAMPERs

With the rapid growth of the country's digital economy, more requirements of work space were raised under rapid growth of staff number and frequent change of organization. It is like nuclear reaction in entrepreneurial team, product R&D team, and project teams. How to fully utilize the limited space, and create an efficient and comfortable work space for employees, has been a knotty problem for the management team.

Three dimensions in balance to achieve

Campers

Campers is designed to provide an office layout solution with flexible disassembling/assembling, less space limitation, and easy adjustment of combined form, for those fast-changing and developing companies.

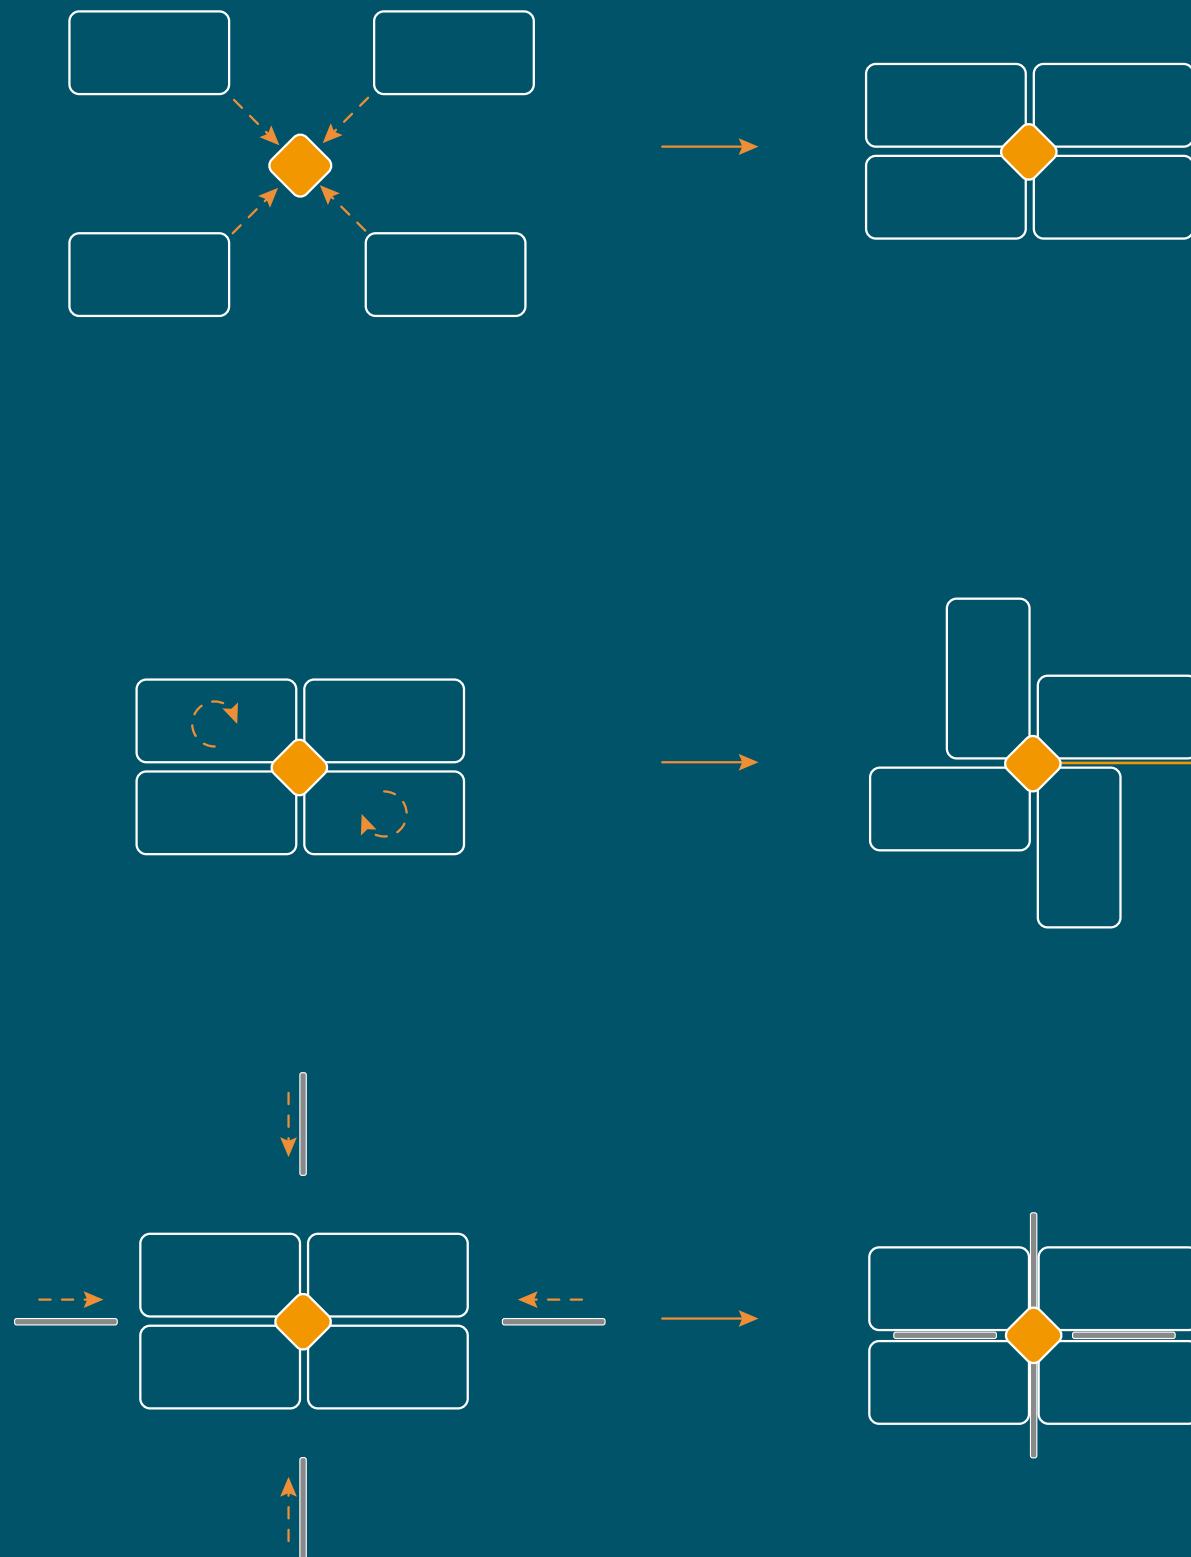

CAMPS

In the context of digital economy, organizations develop just like a nuclear reaction. The only thing that never changes is change itself, and the only thing that never stops is growth. Spatial adjustment and organization change need to be more decisive and a “Campers” product is required along the way.
