Learning happens everywhere.

Diversified learning behaviors occur outside the formal classroom. Behavior activates space. With the developing trend of students' activity, learning space also needs to be multi-functional, flexible and experience oriented, which can make users more involved and engaged.

Concentration

In terms of modular design concept, Jimmy has lots of different combinations with tablet and power in public learning areas. Students can quickly transform different styles of collaborative interactions to improve communicating efficiency.

In the "in-between" area, Jimmy with its flexibility and mobility, can create active learning space easily. At both ends of book collections, Jimmy bench can provide a personal reading space; it can also create an independent thinking chance in the wide aisle or the window area.
