Learning happens everywhere

Diversified learning behaviors occur outside the formal classroom. Behavior activates space. With the developing trend of students' acticity, learning space also needs to be multi-functional, flexible and experience rointed, which can makeusers more involved and engaged.

Concentration

In terms of modular design concept, Jimy has lots of different combinations with tablet and power in public learning areas. Students can quickly transform different styles of collaborative interactions to improve communicating efficiency.

Concentration

In the "in-between" area, Jimy with its flexibility and mobility, can create active learning space easily. At both ends of book collections, Jimy bench can provide a personal reading space, it can also create an independent thinking chance in the wide aisle or the window area.

Execution

By defining different material of Jimy, it can improve the image of the reception and the execution area.
