Acoustic proofing supports transition between collaboration and personal focus

Tongji University reported that STI (Speech Transmission Index) is a physical quantity with respect to speech intelligibility. A quiet environment is of crucial importance for good speech intelligibility. Noise, such as irrelevant speech, is best reduced by distancing oneself from the sound source or by using a “sound absorber”.

Create the best acoustic environment

As we all know, when people gather together, there is noise certainly. However, the truth influencing employee's attention and work performance is the contents in speech as they are closed to each other, based on our research with Tongji University.

Dedicated space for you

Provide you with dedicated space for working, private calls, video conferencing and relaxation. It not only helps enhance innovation ability and working efficiency, but also improves physical and mental health and comfort.

Vital and comfortable working

In a public place, Nobius single booth creates private space where you can make private call and vide conference. Solitary environment with perfect soundproof performance offers all people a quiet and relaxing experience once they enter in Nobius. No one feels the deathly stillness or has the sense of claustrophobia in Nobius even if they stay in Nobius for a long time, because the internal acoustics effect and room temperature makes people feel pleasant.

Optional writing tablet can be configured on the outer side of Nobius for writing. It's magnetic absorbable. By combining it with Rocky Horse Chair, a flexible collaborative area for discussion and writing can be set up.

Neol

Six-person space for sparking inspiration and creativity

Provide meeting and brainstorming space for small project teams, where the teamwork of the project team can be stimulated.

Upholstery configuration is available for the side steel plate of the Nobius booth. Multiple color options are offered. You can freely select the color depending on the company's environmental color and the themed color, making office space more warm.

Nobius six-person standing desktop is island-shaped desktop, which is wide at the front and narrow at the back (the side near the TV is wider and the outer side becomes narrow gradually). In this way, people's views won't be blocked by each other during meeting.
